The National Donor Deferral Registry (NDDR) is a confidential database that is utilized by plasma collection facilities and affiliated laboratory testing companies in North America to assist in the collection of safe plasma. The NDDR is referenced for each individual who wishes to donate plasma. When your Social Security number (or other identifying information) matched information in the registry, the plasma collector could not accept your donation. The NDDR contains confidential donor information of permanently deferred plasma donors on the basis of viral marker testing, but does not contain specific test result information, so we are not able to provide any further information to you.

If you wish to contact the plasma collection center associated with your entry, you may fill in the bottom of this form, have it notarized, and send it to CieloWorks at:

CieloWorks
Attn: NDDR and CDCS Support
5114 Balcones Woods Dr.
Ste. 307-269
Austin, TX 78759

CieloWorks cannot provide test result information; however we can provide you the name, address and phone number of the plasma collection center associated with your entry into the registry, along with the date of entry. You must contact the company directly in order to get further information, as they are the ones who would have access to more specific information concerning your test results and deferral record.
